Dies Suddenly In Norristown Friday

Word has been received here by relatives of the sudden death Friday night about 10 o'clock of Maurice A. Ziegler, 67, Gettysburg native, at his office supply store in Norristown. A heart attack caused death.

Mr. Ziegler was born here and was the last survivor of the family of the late Thomas Wallace and Plien (Long) Ziegler. He attended public schools here. He had held a sales position with the Norwich Pharmaceutical Company and once was employment manager for the Westinghouse Electric Company plant at Mansfield, O.

He had been active in community life in Norristown for a number of years. He was a former vice chairman of the Chamber of Commerce executive committee there and was a 32nd degree Mason and belonged to the Tall Cedars of Lebanon. He was a brother of the late Mrs. Edward Pfeiffer of Gettysburg.

The only immediate survivor is his widow, the former Ruth Webb of Wayne.

Arrangements are being made for funeral services and interment at Norristown.

PROMOTED IN NAVY
Robert C. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Clark, Biglerville, was promoted to torpedo-man's mate third class, USN, while serving aboard the Atlantic Fleet submarine USS Sarda, operating out of New London, Conn. Before entering the Navy in May, 1957, he graduated from Littlestown High School.

SCOUT FAMILY PICNIC SUNDAY

Boy Scouts and their leaders from all parts of the Black Walnut District with their families are expected Sunday at Bonneauville for the annual district family picnic.

Events are scheduled from 11 a.m. until dark.

Games and contests during the afternoon will be featured at 2 o'clock by a contest between Cubs and mothers and at 7 p.m. there will be a softball game between Scouts and their dads. Skits and awards presentations also are on the schedule.

Refreshments will be on sale at the picnic grounds and General Chairman Ray Weishaar said there will be plenty of parking and table space for all the picnickers.

For each Cub and each Explorer who checks in at the picnic ground with every member of his family in the picnic party, there will be the choice of a canteen, a mess kit or pack "as long as they last."

MISS BREAM, J. S. MINNICH MARRY TODAY

Miss Peggy Jo Bream, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Bream, 202 West Broadway, was married in a double ring ceremony this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to Jonathan S. Minnich, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Minnich, York. The Rev. Dr. Paul L. Reaser conducted the ceremony in St. James Lutheran Church.

MRS. J. S. MINNICH

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The altar of the church was decorated with white flowers as were the lectern and pulpit and the chancel was banked with palms. Lighted candelabra were on the altar and the pews were decorated with white floral bouquets intertwined with ivy. Miss Elizabeth Scott served as organist and Miss Louise McDannell, soloist, sang "Because," "O Perfect Love," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride wore a gown of white mousseline-de-soie and imported Alencon lace. It was fashioned with a scoop neckline outlined in lace, an empire bodice and a bouffant skirt ending in a chapel-length train. The finger-tip veil of illusion fell from a white Juliet cap of matching Alencon lace etched in seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis with ivy.

Honor Attendants
Honor attendants were Mrs. Ray K. Drum, Drexel Hill, and Mrs. S. M. Raffensperger, Gettysburg, sisters of the bride. Both (Continued On Page 3)

Service Celebration Held 40 Years Ago

A memorial program of the "Welcome Home" celebration held forty years ago, September 1, 1919, for all Adams Countians who served in the armed forces during World War I recalls that the occasion featured an address by Congressman J. Hampton, later mayor of Philadelphia.

In addition servicemen were invited to join the Legion of Honor at an assembly at Xavier Hall, attend two baseball games between Gettysburg and McSherrytown, take dinner served by the Red Cross on the playground tennis courts and parade.

Evening highlights were a band concert in the Square and a dance at Xavier Hall.

Of the forty advertisers in the memorial booklet, which has been preserved by Fred Slonaker, York St., only four firms are still doing business in Gettysburg.

School Bands To Play On Tuesday

The combined Junior and Senior High School bands of Gettysburg High School will present a concert Tuesday evening at the Gettysburg Firemen's Carnival at the Recreation Park. The 125 student musicians will be under the direction of Robert G. Zeigler of the high school faculty.

There will also be a featured performance by the Senior High School majorettes who have recently returned from a twirling school at Red Lion conducted by the Burg Sisters.

Mr. Zeigler announced that because of Tuesday's concert the regular rehearsal will be moved to Monday evening at the high school with majorettes, color guards, banner carriers and band members asked to report promptly at 7 p.m. for marching practice. Afterward concert music will be rehearsed in the high school building. Instructions will be given then for Tuesday's concert and the Thursday parade engagement.

Speaks Here Sunday Night

Hugh Maglone Milton II, assistant secretary of the Army for Manpower and Reserve Forces, who will deliver the address Sunday evening in the Gettysburg High School Auditorium officially opening the 1959 observance of the 96th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg. An Army Band concert will precede the address.

COLLEGE GRADS ARE MARRIED IN TANEYTOWN

Miss Barbara Ann Burke, daughter of Mrs. Henry Mack Traugh and the late Otto Lockhart Burke, New Cumberland, was married this afternoon at 2 p.m. to Edward W. Baumgardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Elwood Baumgardner, Taneytown. The Rev. Stanley Jenkins performed the ceremony in Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Taneytown. The church was decorated with ferns, greens, and pastel summer flowers. Music was presented by Miss Hazel Hes, Taneytown, organist, and

MRS. BAUMGARDNER

Robert A. Bullock, Denisville, N. J., vocalist.

The bride wore a princess style gown of white silk organza over taffeta, fashioned with short sleeves, a re-embroidered lace bateau neckline and a bow draped bustle effect forming a chapel train. Her headpiece was a re-embroidered lace half-hat from which fell an illusion finger-tip veil. Her flowers were white roses and stephanotis in cascade effect.

The maid of honor, Miss Sandra Marie Amundsen, Tanafly, N. J., wore a turquoise silk organza (Continued On Page 9)

CENTURY OLD FIRM MERGES

It was announced today that the Mummasburg Mutual Fire Protection Society, which has been continuously in business for the last 100 years, has merged with Bankers Mutual Insurance Co. of Adams County. John E. Hotstetter, 238 Baltimore St., is president of the surviving company.

Agents appointed to solicit in their respective territories are: H. W. Knouse and M. S. Stoops, Gettysburg; Emory Weaver, Littlestown; H. J. Philips, East Berlin; Ralph L. Golden, York Springs; Richard Hartman, Orttanna R. D., and Bankers Agency, Inc., Gettysburg.

The Mummasburg Mutual was organized on April 8, 1858 and met in the public school house in Mummasburg for a number of years. About 1917 the company moved to McKnight Heirs Building, Center Square, later known as the Dougherty and Hartley Building. In 1958 the group moved to 238 Baltimore St.

ATTENDANCE AT REC AREAS UP THIS WEEK

Reports are in on the second week's operation of Gettysburg's summer recreation program and the attendance figures have mounted to 2,661, an increase of 153 over the first week and a new all-time high for recreation activities here.

The figures compiled by Recreation Director Chester A. Hilger show the Recreation Park had 772 youngsters out with Monday the busiest day with 175 present. Friday was low with 133. At the college playground the total was 464 while Keefeauver School playground counted 606. The remainder of the 2,661 were accounted for at the lot lots and in the swimming, tennis and music programs.

Minor and Pee-wee League tournament play started at the "Rec" Park this week and inter-playground contests began. Ping pong, foul shooting, checkers, archery for 11 to 14-year-olds and baseball tournaments are slated for next week. Arts and crafts, swimming and baton lessons are also part of the program here.

Many Events Planned

A swimming party, picnic hike, arts and crafts and a checkers tournament won by Cynthia Dear-dorff were Keefeauver playground highlight plus a softball game won by the Keefeauver team over that from the college play area. Next week is Outer Space week for the girls with an "unguided missile" contest, softball games and a Fourth of July picnic at Caledonia.

Boys at the Keefeauver area will go on a hike, play tournament games and hold a Junior Olympic Day. Monday afternoon the "fastest bike" on the lot will be selected in races against time.

The college playground reported 464 youngsters there for the morning and afternoon programs. Softball, jacks, archery and checkers are on the schedule for girls there next week. Boys there this week started baseball play in the Minor (Continued On Page 3)

TOWN NATIVE DIES IN SPAIN

Edward Francis Wilson, 55, a Gettysburg native who died in Spain June 20 at the result of an octane gas explosion, will be buried Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the Bender Funeral Home. There will be a Requiem Mass at St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church at 9 o'clock with the Rev. Fr. Anthony Kane officiating. Interment will be made in the church cemetery.

Mr. Wilson was employed in Spain by Brown, Raymond and Walsh, contractors. No details were available about the blast which caused his death. His body was flown to the Dover AFB Friday morning.

The deceased was born in Gettysburg and was a son of the late Frank and Loretta (Thomas) Wisotzky. Surviving are these brothers and sisters: Mrs. Pauline Conroy, Ossining, N. Y.; Mrs. Elizabeth McCarthy, Bell Harbor, L. I.; George Wilson, New York City; Mrs. Marie J. Wurtz, Asbury Park, N. J., and Joseph Wisotzky, Ossining.

Wilson had worked in Spain for the last four years.

Friends may call at the Bender Funeral Home Sunday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. The Rosary will be recited there at 8 p.m.

68 Lose Lives When Plane Disintegrates In A Storm

MILAN, Italy (AP) — A two-nation inquiry opened today in the flaming crash of an American airliner that disintegrated in a furious summer thunderstorm, killing all 68 persons aboard.

Eyewitnesses said they saw a huge lightning bolt rip into the four-engine Constellation Friday. But aviation experts were inclined to doubt that lightning alone exploded the Trans World Airlines plane and caused Italy's worst air disaster.

The plane had taken off from Malpensa Airport in this big north Italian industrial city just 17 minutes before. It flew north toward the Swiss Alps and into the storm. It was headed for Paris and then a nonstop flight to Chicago's O'Hare Airport.

34 Are Americans
At least 28 passengers and 6 crew members were American. Bodies, so badly mangled that identification of most was not immediately possible, were collected at an improvised shelter in the woods.

Bits of the giant Constellation were scattered in a three-mile trail along the ground among the crowded villages north of Milan. People on the ground said they saw the lightning bolt hit over

George P. Black, 84, Dies In Warner Hospital Friday; Had Been Asst. Postmaster

GEORGE P. BLACK

George Perle Black, 84, 401 Baltimore St., for 27 years Gettysburg's assistant postmaster and for the last seven years Adams County's court clerk, died at 4:28 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Warner Hospital where he had been a patient for the last 24 days. The cause of death was monocytic leukemia.

Mr. Black was a former county school teacher, an active churchman for many years, a member of four Masonic orders, a past commander of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War and a former Gettysburg school director and for 14 years secretary of the local school board.

He was born in Cumberland Twp., a son of the late William G. and Sarah M. (Wetherow) Black. He attended the township schools and then went to private normal schools in Littlestown and Hanover during the summers while he taught school in the winters. He taught school for ten terms in rural sections of the county in Union, Cumberland and Mt. Joy Twp. He started teaching in the fall of 1894 at the age of 19 at Valley Grove School in Union Twp.

Post Office Clerk

For two years after he married Miss Verna A. Weikert, of Cumberland Twp., on June 22, 1901, he taught school and then resigned to accept a sub-clerkship in the Gettysburg post office. He became a clerk on October 1, 1904, and moved up through the money order and register divisions to the assistant postmastership on January 1, 1919.

He was the local secretary of the Civil Service Board from 1906 until 1940 and held close to 150 Civil Service examinations for many types of positions. He was a member at large for many years in the United National Association of Post Office Clerks and a member of the National Postal Supervisors Association. He retired as assistant postmaster here May 31, 1945.

Since that time he had worked as a battlefield guide and was court clerk in the Adams County courts since 1953. He once campaigned for the Republican nomination for representative in the General Assembly from this county.

School Director

The deceased was a Gettysburg school director from 1919 to 1928 and continued to serve as its secretary until 1934.

He was a member of the Good Samaritan lodge No. 336 of the Masons, the Royal Arch chapter, Gettysburg Commandery No. 79 (Continued On Page 3)

COUNTY HOME VISITING DAY

This is Visiting Day at the Adams County Home and a program arranged by the County Home Auxiliary opened late this morning and will continue until early evening.

Highlights will be a festival, bazaar, rummage sale, the sale of new articles made by guests at the home and donated by local merchants, a pet show, a dancing exhibition and a band concert.

Registration for the pet show begins at 1 p.m. and the judging will take place at 2 p.m. The dancing exhibition will take place at 6 o'clock and will be presented by members of the Adams County Senior Extension Club. There will be a 7 p.m. concert by the Blue and Gray Band of Gettysburg.

Refreshments will be on sale throughout the day. Homemade cakes, pies and canned goods and fancy work will be on sale.

Mrs. Charles Kuhn, Cashtown, is chairman of the auxiliary committee in charge.

Retired Teachers Elect Officers

The following officers were elected at the recent annual summer meeting of the retired public school teachers of Adams County in the parish house of the Pines Lutheran Church.

President, George Wehler; vice president, Mrs. Lloyd Hartman; secretary, Miss Beulah Wentz; assistant secretary, Miss Julia Hamme; treasurer, Blaine Bushy; assistant treasurer, Ray Sponseller.

The meeting featured a humorous reading by Mrs. Floyd Hoffman, East Berlin, a guest.

Following a basket lunch and social hour, the treasurer's report was given by Harry Bream. W. W. Eisenhart, chairman of the necrology committee, reported the death of Prof. Leslie Stock of Biglerville.

George Wehler reported on the State Teachers' Convention and Miss Minnie Orndorff presented the report of the nominating committee.

HAWAII VOTES ON STATEHOOD FOR LAST TIME

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
HONOLULU (AP)—Hawaiians voted on statehood for a last time today and picked candidates for their first state election a month hence.

From all sides came predictions that the islanders would give an overwhelming "yes" to admit the mid-Pacific island chain as the 50th state.

They had done so in two earlier plebiscites and have been pleading for statehood for half a century.

The Hawaii Statehood Commission said its straw vote last week showed 12 to 1 approval for admission to the Union.

Candidates of Asian descent predominated on the primary list and the first state election July 28 is expected to send at least one Oriental to Congress.

Elect Congressmen
Hawaii will elect two U.S. senators and one representative next month. Five of the eight leading aspirants are of Japanese or Chinese ancestry.

Election officials predicted the combined statehood referendum and party primary would bring out 85 per cent of the nearly 170,000 eligible voters.

In addition to congressional nominees, voters also picked party candidates for governor and for the 76-seat first state legislature.

With Republicans running unopposed for major nominations, attention in the primary focused on contests within the Democratic party.

5 Dems In Running
Five Democrats sought nomination for the two U.S. Senate seats, although only three of them were regarded in the running. They are William H. Heen, 76, Chinese-American former president of the territorial senate, Oren E. Long, 70, longtime governor of Hawaii, and Frank F. Fasi, 38, a territorial senator.

For governor, Democrat John A. Burns, 50, a longtime policeman who was elected last November to a second term as delegate to Congress, faced nominal primary opposition from a political unknown, businessman Edward H. Hitchcock.

Man Is Killed In Turnpike Accident

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A pickup truck ran off the Pennsylvania turnpike early today and smashed against a concrete bridge abutment, killing one man and injuring two others.

Killed was Gust G. Peeters, 54, of Greensburg R. D. 5, driver of the truck. Taken to Westmoreland County hospital at Greensburg were his son, Paul, 25, listed in good condition, and Jessie P. Burns, 50, of Greensburg R. 4, reported in serious condition.

The crash occurred just east of the New Stanton interchange. The truck was west bound.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Jane Hadley, 12, returned from her swimming class, her brown hair a mass of tangle.

Questioning brought out the reason.

"THE CHAPEL BELLS"

When the chapel bells ring loudly . . . calling faithful souls to pray . . . I am prone to heed the message . . . that their wondrous sounds convey . . . in each tender tone there lingers . . . faith and hope for those afraid . . . strength for those who journey slowly . . . up a steep and rugged grade . . . chapel bells bid mankind welcome . . . reaching like a helping hand . . . telling us there is a someone . . . who will always understand . . . echoing across life's highway . . . holy bells make sad hearts glow . . . reaching to the darkest corner . . . clearing skies of worldly woe . . . when I hear the great bells pealing . . . I find reason to life's rhyme . . . may the chapel bells ring loudly . . . now and till the end of time.

RECALL ERA OF GASLIGHT

After serving for a number of years as a wedding bench, the plaque of the original gas works in Taneytown was discovered and preserved by George W. Crouse and was presented Wednesday at a meeting of the Taneytown Kiwanis Club to Mayor Raymond Perry who pledged that the token of Taneytown's gaslight era will be preserved and displayed "in an appropriate manner."

The mayor and town council were guests of Crouse, president of the club. The meeting was held in Taney Inn.

Dr. Guy P. Bready was speaker of the evening and observed that this year is the 50th anniversary of the installation of gaslights in Taneytown. Gaslights, he recalled, were installed in 1909 and were in service just eight years when electricity came to town.

Grace Reformed Church was the first building in Taneytown to be electrified, he said.

Dr. Bready said that he recalls vividly the building which housed the gas works. It has since been moved from its original location and is now a residence, he said.

He also noted the names of the then town officials and recalled incidents about each. They were Burgess Samuel H. Mehring and Commissioners Edward Reinhold, Edward Kemper, Judson Hill, James H. Reinhold and Franklin Seiss.

'PATTERSON WAS HELPLESS'

NEW YORK (AP)—"It was better for him to be able to walk out than have to be carried out."

This was Referee Ruby Goldstein's explanation of why he stopped the heavyweight championship bout between Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson Friday night.

Ruby, 51-year-old veteran of many title bouts, gave the signal that made Johansson the champion at 2:03 of the third round after Patterson had been floored seven times.

"I didn't have any idea how much time was left in the round," Ruby said, "but it really didn't matter. A man can be injured permanently in two or three seconds."

"Patterson was worn out, completely exhausted. It wasn't a case of his suffering injuries from Johansson's punches, but the idea that he was completely helpless to ward off any more punches."

Tries To Reach 2 Sons In Wreckage

MILAN, Italy (AP)—A haggard little man ducked past police lines today, slipped through a grove of trees, then dashed for the wreckage of a TWA airliner which had crashed Friday, killing 68 persons.

Police ran after him. They are under orders to keep everyone away from the crash scene until an official investigation is completed.

As police escorted him out of the zone, the man sobbed: "But my sons! My two sons! They're in there!"

He pulled out documents identifying him as Caglo Cavallanti. His sons, Gabriele and Franco, died in the wreckage.

CHINESE FOOD FINDS FRIEND

A reputation for Chinese dinners was the clue that led to the reunion of two friends, Edward C. Young, Oakland, Calif., and C. W. MacPherson, Hunterstown, recently.

Young is an American-born Chinese. His parents are natives of Hong Kong. He and MacPherson met in China where both were serving in the U.S. Army. Later, when Mr. and Mrs. MacPherson lived in San Francisco, the two met again. Young's father operated a Chinese restaurant and night club in the West Coast city.

Young's effort to find his friends here a year ago ended in confusion. They have a New Oxford address and a Gettysburg telephone. This year Young inquired at the New Oxford post office where Mrs. MacPherson was known because of the Chinese dinners she served at the Presbyterian Church in Hunterstown.

Young and William Miller, Champaign, Ill., visited the MacPhersons. Then while Miller went on to visit friends in Harrisburg, the MacPhersons took Young for a tour of the Gettysburg Battlefield. He expressed admiration for the "level land" here. A covered bridge which they passed through near New Oxford was the first one he had seen.

Miller and Young went on to Washington later. Both are members of the Army Reserves. They are serving two weeks active duty at the Pentagon.

HOFFA DEFIES ORDERTOCLEAN OUT HOODLUMS

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Two and a half years after the Senate Labor-Management Committee began investigating him, James R. Hoffa still promises to drive racketeers from office in his Teamsters Union.

His story is the same—he'll do it in his own good time.

Hoffa told the committee Friday he has the power and the authority to do it now, but will not act until the committee ends its investigation.

His promise drew a scornful retort from Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

"I have no hope of your ever cleaning up the union, Mr. Hoffa," Kennedy said.

Surrounded by Mobsters
Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) has charged repeatedly that Hoffa is so hemmed in by mobster allies that he couldn't clean up the union if he wanted to.

The committee named a long string of union officials with long criminal records who have pleaded the Fifth Amendment as witnesses. Their crimes include extortion, murder and narcotics.

Hoffa said he would attend to them in due course, including Sam Goldstein, president of New York Local 239, who draws his $200,000-a-year union salary and expense account while serving a jail term for extortion.

"When the final chapter is closed in this committee, we will then take up one by one these charges," Hoffa said.

"Can't Find Hoodlums"
"You said the same thing two and a half years ago," Senator Kennedy replied.

Hoffa acknowledged he has invested $50,636.07 in a Teamster antiracketeering committee consisting principally of former Sen. George H. Bender of Ohio. He said the Bender committee hasn't turned up even one hoodlum who should be ousted. He said Bender never had mentioned to him the case of Teamster Goldstein drawing pay while in jail.

QUEEN TO MEET RICHARD NIXON, ROCKEFELLER

By RELMAN MORIN
CORNWALL, Ont. (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II today visits what's been called the "greatest engineering project in the world" and meets two men who may contend for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

The royal yacht Britannia, after sailing through the St. Lawrence Seaway in a symbolic opening with President Eisenhower aboard, headed for the Cornwall-Massena, N.Y., area where the St. Lawrence power project operates. Eisenhower returned to Washington Friday.

Nixon To Meet Queen
Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller arranged to welcome the Queen and Prince Philip today. Ceremonies greeting the royal couple are set for Eisenhower Lock; Moses-Saunders Dam, and at the international boundary.

Nixon and Rockefeller, both frequently mentioned as potential rivals for the Republican nomination next year, are slated to speak and Elizabeth is listed for a state-meat acknowledging the welcome. However, the festivities today emphasize electric, not political, power.

The St. Lawrence power project, though not exclusively Canadian, is one of Canada's most spectacular industrial projects.

Greatest Project
Former President Herbert Hoover, himself an engineer, termed it "undoubtedly the greatest engineering project in the world."

All the components have been installed, generating more than one billion kilowatts. When running at maximum, it is second only to the Grand Coulee on the Columbia River in Washington state among hydroelectric plants of the western world.

The St. Lawrence River, dropping 92 feet in 40 miles between Ogdensburg, N.Y., and Cornwall, Ont., provides a vast force to spin turbines in 32 generators—16 on each side of the international boundary.

HUMID BLANKET GRIPS EAST AS MERCURY RISES

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The mercury soared today as hot, muggy weather clung to many areas.

There was little relief on the weather map. Slight cooling poured over the central Rockies and the Weather Bureau said scattered showers were likely during the afternoon for some regions.

A humid blanket gripped nearly all of the eastern half of the country Friday night.

Heavy Thunderstorms
To the west, high night time readings and heavy thunderstorms prevailed over portions of the northern plains.

Some 3½ inches of rain pounded Medicine Lake, a northeastern Montana community, during a 30-minute period Friday night. Bismarck, N.D., measured more than an inch of rain during a 6-hour period. Thunderstorms, with gusty winds clocked at 65 miles an hour, hit Pierre, S.D.

More than an inch of precipitation was measured at Grand Marais, Mich., during a 6-hour overnight period. Park Falls, Wis., reported 1.50 inches and Duluth, Minn., 1.26.

Over an inch of rain was reported at Tulsa, Okla. An afternoon storm dumped 2.72 inches on Fort Worth, turning many streets into small rivers. Last week, the Texas city, was doused by more than 7 inches.

Friday's high readings included 96 at Aberdeen, S.D. and 96 at Washington, D.C. The heat forced longshoremen to quit work, canceling five ship sailings at Baltimore.

PARIS (AP)—A French Senate committee has estimated that President Charles de Gaulle's five-year-development plan for rebellious Algeria will cost five billion dollars. That is about half the total budget for the French government last year.

Little Rock Schools Integrate This September

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Little Rock school board, in the face of Gov. Orval E. Faubus' warning of possible violence, Thursday night officially announced plans to operate Little Rock's high schools on an integrated basis this fall.

Faubus said at a press conference less than 36 hours before that he felt integrated schools could not be operated here without the backing of federal force.

The governor was not available for comment on Thursday night's action.

Terse Statement
The five-man board announced the unanimous decision in a terse statement after a brief executive decision.

Unofficial plans to open the schools under a token program of

"Momma, What Happened?"

That was one of the first questions Ivan Moon asked from his hospital bed.

It's a question that echoed and re-echoed through Ivan's shocked hometown of Shelbyville, Ill. Why, how could it have happened? There had been no drinking . . . Moon was known as a good driver, a level-headed boy, whose automobile was his pampered pride and joy.

For Ivan Moon, amnesia had obliterated the evening a train smashed his car, killed his sister, his girl, and five other youngsters after a high school prom.

But parents and friends remembered, sadly . . . And you will remember, too, after reading the drama of one accident which may stand as a dark memorial to the nation's highway victims. Written by Associated Press Reporter Saul Pett, who spent a week digging into the events, the article appears Monday, June 29, in The Gettysburg Times.

and of Zombo Shrine of Harrisburg. He had served the Gettysburg camp of the Sons of Union Veterans in various capacities, including commander.

Formerly a member of the Mt. Joy Lutheran Church, he had been a member of St. James Lutheran Church since 1904. He served in church council offices and many Sunday School posts including a four-year term as superintendent. He served 22 years on the Church Council and was its secretary for 12 years and had also been its treasurer.

He was a synod delegate to three conventions of the United Lutheran Church in America at Omaha, Philadelphia and Baltimore. He had been a member of the board of trustees of the Tressler Orphans' Home at Lysville with 12 years. He was at various times both secretary and treasurer of that board.

Funeral On Monday
Mr. Black was a director of the Gettysburg Building and Loan Association since 1927. After serving for 10 years as its secretary, he later became vice president and then its president.

His wife died May 31, 1958.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Sara Black Gideon at home, and a grandson, George William Gideon. One brother also survives, Irvin B. Black, Gettysburg R. 1. There are a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services at the Bender Funeral Home Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock with his pastor, the Rev. Dr. Paul L. Reaser, officiating. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

CHARGE MARINE HIT 3 TRAINEES

CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C. (AP)—An acting Marine sergeant has been accused of slugging three young trainees in the stomach with his fist.

The trainees are Pfc. A. F. Zumbo, 17, of Scranton, Pa., Pvt. J. C. Wilkes, 18, of Lewisburg, Tenn., and Pvt. R. K. Wadlington, 18, of 246 Carre Ave., Essington, Pa. They were in advance combat training.

The sergeant is Woodrow F. Hoover, 20, of Salt Lake City Utah He had been a troop trainer two and one-half weeks.

A Camp Lejeune spokesman said an investigation of the June 7 incident was begun but was discontinued because of the sergeant's unauthorized absence. No charges have been filed against him.

He was restricted to base, the spokesman said, but disappeared Sunday and was declared a deserter by his commanding officer.

The circumstances of the alleged incident were not detailed.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted Thursday for repeal of the 10 per cent tax on passenger travel, effective Aug. 1.

Voice votes accepted this proposal from its finance committee and also a proposal for repeal of the 10 per cent communications tax, effective July 1, 1960.

LONG RESTING FOR WEEK AT SMALL HOTEL

COVINGTON, La. (AP)—Gov. Earl K. Long, just one busy day out of a mental institution, settled down today to about a week's rest recommended by a team of psychiatrists.

The governor, staying at a tiny country motel, said he would follow the doctors' instructions. "I wouldn't have sent them if I had intended otherwise," he added.

His words Friday indicated the contrary. He talked of renewing his campaign for re-election. "I thought I would have to make 300 speeches next fall to win, but now I think I can do it with 100 speeches."

Press Is Banned
A platoon of doctors took over the governor's routine by invitation, banned all contact with the press, all nonessential visitors and all unnecessary activity.

This voluntary medical treatment may slow the 63-year-old governor's progress along a trail of vengeance against Louisiana politicians the governor feels have done him wrong. No new reprisals were announced.

Long ended 27 days of confinement in two mental hospitals at midmorning Friday.

The governor had the State Hospital Board petition him to dismiss State Hospitals Director Jesse Bankston and Dr. Charles Belcher, acting superintendent of Southeast Louisiana (mental) Hospital at Mandeville. This action removed all opposition to Long's release.

Three Are Absent
Mrs. Long, Sen. Russell Long (D-La.), the governor's nephew, and Dr. Arthur Long all were absent from Friday's proceedings. The three concurred in the decision that resulted in Long's flight to Galveston, Tex., for psychiatric treatment and subsequent 16-day stay at John Sealy Medical Center. Mrs. Long also asked that the governor be committed to Mandeville.

The governor Thursday filed for separation from Mrs. Long, who slipped out of the state for parts unknown Tuesday night.

After getting the hospital board to dismiss Bankston and Belcher, Long fired State Police Supt. John Nick Brown. Long apparently was miffed at Brown and state troopers who took part in whisking him to Mandeville.

ATTENDANCE

and Peevée leagues. There will be more baseball next week, dart contests and archery instruction.

Tot Lot Reports
The Fourth St. play lot counted 151 this week. Nature study, an art show, clay modeling, hikes and spatter painting are on the list for next week.

The Barlow and Stevens St. play areas reported an attendance of 190. Games, free play and instruction about the two new states are planned for next week together with crafts work.

The Recreation Park Tot lot had an attendance of 158 and Indian Week will be observed next week and stories and games will revolve about Indian life and customs.

73 For Tennis
Reports showed 73 persons turned out for tennis instruction on evenings this week while 92 persons reported for instrumental music instruction at morning classes. A schedule change for next week was announced. The Friday band group which has met at 10 a.m. will be changed to 9 a.m. starting July 3. The class of intermediate and advanced trombones scheduled for 9 a.m. Friday will meet at 10 a.m. instead.

A total of 155 persons turned out for swimming at the college pool. It was announced that swimming instruction will be given from 9 to 10 a.m. daily while swimming for fun will take place from 10 to 12 each morning.

Three Properties Are Transferred
Deeds have been filed in the office of the register and recorder for property transfers as follows:

School District of Conewago Twp. to Elias E. and Gertrude M. Leppo, Hanover, school building and tract, $3,000.

Clarence M. and Alda S. Barnard, to George C. Warner, all of Hamiltonban Twp., tract in Hamiltonban Twp., $2.

Herbert C. and Gertrude J. Dull, Union Twp., to Ralph C. Jr. and Jean L. Unger, Hanover R. 1, 68-acre property in Union Twp., $15,000.

SKATER IS DIVORCED
SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—An ice skater says her marriage to her rink partner cooled because he spent 12 to 14 hours daily on the ice without her.

"I became very lonely," Anne Holt, 29, testified Wednesday as she divorced Austin Holt, 33.

The Holts held seventh ranking as world figure-skating pairs, she said. She is also an actress, whom TV fans have seen in "Dragnet" and Alred Hitchcock thrillers.

Read - Winebrenner Nuptials Held Saturday; Parents Of Bride Observe Anniversary: Miss Gertrude Jane Winebrenner Saturday evening at 7 o'clock became the bride of Edward S. Read Jr., Philadelphia, at a ceremony performed in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner, Baltimore, Md.

The Rev. Dr. Howard Schley Fox, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church here, officiated at the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families of the couple.

Following the ceremony the bride party went to the Gettysburg Country Club where about 75 persons were guests at a combined wedding reception and 25th wedding anniversary celebration for Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner.

Fruit Growers Expect Bumper Cherry Harvest: Adams county this week will begin harvesting the largest cherry crop in many years — possibly one of the largest in history.

Estimates by growers show the expected crop to be 125 per cent of last year's harvest. Put into other figures, the estimated harvest will be from 2,000 to 2,200 tons.

Air Force To Send Display To Gettysburg: The Middletown Air Material Area mobile display from Olmsted Air Force base, showing much of the latest United States Air Force equipment, will come to Gettysburg Saturday, July 2, in connection with the observance of the 86th anniversary of the battle. The display will be placed on East Middle street near the engine house. Saturday is Air Forces day.

Local Chamber Wants Public Ceremony To Mark Opening Of Improved W. Lincoln Highway: Henry W. Garvin, president of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce, today invited the Chambersburg Chamber of Commerce to join in a public dinner-meeting at Graeffenburg Inn to officially mark the opening of the improved Lincoln highway from Gettysburg to Chambersburg.

New Catholic School To Cost $75,000: Construction of the new $115,000 school building to be built during the coming year by St. Francis Xavier Catholic parish will begin in about 10 days, the Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, pastor of the church, announced at Sunday's masses.

The contract to build the eight-room brick structure has been let to O. H. Hostetter, Builder, Inc. of Hanover, for $75,000. The remainder of the cost will go toward installing blackboards, desks and other equipment needed for the operation of the school.

Wickerham-Shepherd Nuptials Are Solemnized Saturday: The marriage of Miss Janet Shedd-Shoemaker, daughter of Mrs. John Shedd Shoemaker, of Lansdowne, Pa., and G. Donald Wickerham, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Wickerham, East Broadway, was celebrated Saturday afternoon in St. John's Episcopal Church, Lansdowne.

The campers have completed the fourth or fifth grades in public schools and will remain at Nawakwa for one week. They will be followed by a group of intermediate boys who will be enrolled

Today's Talk

A BOOK IS A PERSON
There is nothing more personalized than a good book. It has all the elements of life to it. I never feel alone in my library. Silent people (lovers of books) seem ever to be about me. They are about me, I am sure. The more you love books the more certain you feel they are always near to you, and that each one is a silent Person.

Kenneth Grahame wrote one of the books that I feel deserves immortality. It is called "The Wind in the Willows." In it the author, a one-time banker, has personalized a group of familiar animals in a most delightful manner. There you will meet the Toad (always getting his friends in trouble) and there you will learn about the Mole, the Rat, the Otter, and others. My favorite chapter in this book is entitled "The Piper at the Gates of Dawn."

In this famous book the animals take upon themselves the joy of human beings. They were first written to entertain the author's young son (Moose). Arnold Bennett once said that this classic, however, was far from being only a child's book. It was one for grown men and women as well. Grahame's animals were persons like we all are, but bound up in books.

I can say that books, as persons, are often rare medicine, and remedies for many an ailment. Books have brought many a person back to health and strength. They have often done more to make us healthy human beings than any pills or powders. Books climb into the soul via the mind and heart. Keep your favorites close at hand!

Just Folks

A FATHER'S SONG

If nothing ever happened
Except my baby's smile,
I'd face the big world gayly
And count the fight worth while.

If there was naught to cheer me
Except my baby's voice,
I'd bear my burdens bravely
And every night rejoice.

If all were dark about me
Except by baby's eyes,
I still would call the big world
An earthly paradise.

If all of life were better
Except my baby's kiss,
I'd revel in its sweetness
And steep my soul with bliss.

If I were only happy
When she is on my knee,
That joy, for all my troubles,
Reward enough would be.

I'd tread the old world gayly
And deem the fight worth while,
I'd bear ten times my burden
To see my baby smile.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

The notes on the Marsh Creek Settlement, which gradually came to include all that territory within the proprietary manor known as the Manor of the Masque (Maske), in what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania, are continued at this time.

A list on file in the Land Office, Department of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, entitled "First Settlers of the Manor of the Maske" with the further subtitle "A list of persons who settled and made improvements on the Manor of Maske before the 18th day of June, 1741, with the date of each one's settlement respectively" is herewith given in full because of its historical and genealogical value. The names of the settlers with the approximate date of settlement follow: —

"William McClellan, May 1740; John Fletcher, June 1739; John McDowell, April 1741; John McFerran, May 1741; Robert Fletcher, May 1741; Samuel Gettys "near Rock Creek," May 1740; John Steel, September 1740; Hugh Scott, September 1740; Daniel McKeeman, September 1740; George Kerr, October 1740; Samuel McCulloch (McCullough), May 1741; Alexander Stuart, April 1741; Robert Smith, April 1741; Robert Johnston, April 1741; Samuel Pedan, May 1741; Samuel Agnew, May 1741; Alexander McNair, April 1741; John Miller, April 1741; Henry Pearson, April 1741; Thomas McCleary, May 1740; James Thompson, May 1741; William Stevenson, May 1741; Henry Rowan, June 1739; Quintin Adams, April 1741; Robert McNeil, April 1740; Joseph Clugston, April 1741; John McCaughy, April 1741; Henry Cotton, April 1741; Duncan McDonnell, April 1740; William McCrany, April 1740; Rev. Let's Look At The Record

GENEVA BACK-WASH
Russians Lost Big Propaganda Battle
Nixon To Carry The Ball Next Month

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior
IN THE PROPAGANDA WAR at Geneva Khushchev, Gromyko & Co. fared badly. Secretary of State Christian D. Herter has made a brilliant beginning.

Jim Dan Hill

Our patrol planes just as Russian obstinacy was putting the conference on the rocks.

Little wonder that Khushchev suddenly switched to milder tones and signaled for a three-weeks truce on the adverse publicity his Geneva team was bringing to Communist arrogance.

By July 13, the Kremlin obviously hopes to pick up the pieces of their shattered program of propaganda from diplomatic sounding boards. That is all they have sought at Geneva.

It is all that they intend to achieve at a summit pow-wow.

IT IS OFTEN SAID dictators are more efficient in foreign affairs than democracies because dictators do not have to consider powerful legislative bodies at home.

Those who actually believe this should give careful study to the present Geneva conversations. The discerning student may well decide the idea is a myth.

It is true that in a short, quickie negotiation like Hitler at Munich, 1939, a dictator can gain advantage through surprise tactics and fear factors.

But when democracies refuse to be rushed, stand fast upon their combined strength, and widely publicize their honorable intentions and terms, they have a distinct advantage over a monolithic power under a heavy handed dictator.

ENGLAND'S SELWYN LLOYD is apparently so confident of a continued advantage on summit talks that he and Prime Minister Macmillan are not so reluctant in meeting with Khushchev as are Mr. Herter and President Eisenhower.

The English statesmen are also quite obviously swayed by the vast amount of additional publicity they would get in their own country on the eve of a forthcoming general election.

Even so, Mr. Herter had no trouble in holding his difficult coalition of democracies in a united front.

In this, however, he had some assistance from Khushchev. The more arrogant his thundering from Moscow became, the more tightly England, France and America were drawn together.

THIS SUGGESTS that by July 13, Khushchev may decide he is no longer anxious for a summit conference.

This is not a good guess. Khushchev apparently retains such fond memories of his brilliant successes at the summit meeting of 1953 that he wants to do it again.

There he learned that the mere willingness of Eisenhower and other chiefs of the Big Four to meet with him is interpreted by the world generally as an admission that he is partially right on all the issues at hand, and his opponents are prepared for sweeping compromises or they would not be meeting with them.

Eisenhower obviously recalls bitterly how he and his colleagues were caught on this hook at Geneva in 1953 and he has no intentions of getting back on the same hook in 1959.

SUMMIT CONFERENCES are necessarily short. Chiefs of great nations cannot sit out propaganda sessions six weeks at a time as the foreign ministers have been doing.

Khushchev knows this. He appreciates the advantage an unscrupulous dictator enjoys in a short, fast, highly publicized propaganda battle in which he need not await public reactions at home and during which he can take recourse to the Big Lie, joined with euphemistic aphorisms to divide and confuse the peoples and governments of the democracies opposed to him.

It was thus that in 1955 he achieved illusory, vague, abstract agreements that for a year or two lulled the West into a dangerous, false sense of security.

Mr. Eisenhower apparently sensed what was happening at the time it was happening but knew he could then do nothing about it. His statements now are clear that he will have no repetition.

THE QUESTION now is: What will Khushchev do? He has but three or four choices: a) Denounce the West for the failure of the conference. b) Send his team back to Geneva, July 13, for his headlines.

LET'S CELEBRATE JULY 6TH TOO!

Holiday week ends increase highway traffic... traffic accidents, too. So drive more carefully. Obey speed limits, warning-signs. Celebrate the Fourth with safer driving... and we'll all have something to celebrate on the Sixth... fewer traffic tragedies!

TOKYO (AP) — Flood-swollen rivers receded slowly at Canton Friday, Peiping radio said.

Peiping credited "millions of heroic people of Kwangtung province," mobilized to raise the dikes 1½ to 3 feet, with saving the city of 1½ million from one of south China's worst floods.

However, some parts of the city were reported still under water and the situation in the Pearl River delta was described as tense.

NORTH EASTON, Mass. (AP)—John S. Ames, 81, horticulturist and businessman, died Tuesday.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — David J. Connor Sr., 84, former traffic chief of the Indianapolis bureau of The Associated Press died Sunday night after breaking his hip in a fall. He retired 25 years ago.

INNOSHIMA, Japan (AP) — An explosion aboard the new Venezuelan oil tanker Esso Maracaibo killed three Japanese workmen Friday and injured eight. But it will not alter her July 21 delivery date, a spokesman for the shipbuilding firm said.

with some trading stock for his much cherished meeting at the summit. c) Forget the whole summit idea and carry out his threats concerning Berlin; or d) Stall along indefinitely with the usual propaganda, hoping coming elections in Britain and America may give him less experienced and/or more sympathetic opponents, particularly in England. This last is the best guess.

And America? Vice President Nixon will make the play in Moscow shortly after July 13. Wait for his headlines.

Johansson Kayoes Patterson With Mighty Right In Third Round

Wins Heavyweight Title With Jolting Suddenness; Floors Champion 7 Times

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Ingemar Johansson's "mystery" right hand turned out to be an atomic weapon—an explosive force that propelled him to the world's heavyweight championship.

The "thunder and lightning" that the undefeated Swede had promised was unleashed in a pulsating third round that saw defending champion Floyd Patterson felled seven times and stripped him of his crown in rain-soaked Yankee Stadium Friday night.

It was a right hand bomb that burst against the jaw of the 5-11 favored American seconds after the third round had started. The power-packed right smashed Patterson to the floor on his back and bereft him of his senses.

Technical Knockout
Calmly and coldly, as if he were sighting a rifle, the handsome, blue-eyed Viking dropped his bleeding and reeling foe to the canvas until Referee Ruby Goldstein ended the slaughter with a wave of his hands.

It went into the record books as a technical knockout. The seven counts were 9, 9, 6, 7, 9 and 1, all in two minutes and three seconds. It was a massacre.

The mighty right — never displayed in his lackluster training maneuvers—made the 26-year-old, 196-pounder the first Swede ever to win a world boxing championship.

"Complete Attonement"
It was complete attonement for Ingemar's humiliating disqualification for running and not fighting against American Eddie Sanders in the heavyweight championship final of the 1952 Olympics at Helsinki. In these same games, Patterson was one of the shining stars in capturing the 165-pound crown.

The astonishing upset — witnessed by some 30,000 at the ball park and thousands more in the alters coast to coast—must rank with such shockers as Max Schmeling's kayo of Joe Louis in 1936, Jim Braddock's triumph over Max Baer in 1935 and Jersey Joe Walcott's annihilation of Ezzard Charles in 1936.

Earns $248,000
The great triumph earned Johansson a purse of about $248,000—most of which will be either attached in law suits or held in escrow for his return bout with Patterson, probably in September.

Patterson will collect approximately $500,000 from all sources of revenue, gate, theater-television, radio and movies.

The punch that sent Patterson, 162, on his back "was a straight right—flush on the chin," said the unmarked invader. "It was my best shot and I thought the fight was over here. I was surprised when he got up. Usually, when I hit a man like that he stays down. But I had to hit him again and again."

"Are You Hurt?"
"I couldn't see the punch coming," said Patterson. "The first one hit flush on the forehead. When I got up I didn't know where I was. I didn't feel the second punch, but after that I think I started to come out of it. But I couldn't criticize the referee for stopping the fight."

While Patterson was being interviewed in his dressing room, his conqueror strode in, a gentle grin on his face.

"Are you hurt, Floyd?" he asked.
"No," replied Patterson. "Patterson will be the first heavyweight champion in history to regain the title," said Floyd's manager, Gus D'Amato.

Used Stinging Jab
That first, flashing right that sent the 24-year-old Patterson flat on his back will be long remembered.

Until that blow was landed neither had done much. Ingemar, 6 feet 1/2 inch to Patterson's 5-11, had kept the champion back with a stinging and flicking jab.

Patterson didn't get in under the jab and never let loose with his flashing combination punches to the body. He did score with several hooks to the body but they didn't have the fire he showed in devastating training camp drills—as dynamic as Johansson's were tame and dull.

Obviously Hurt
Seconds after the third round started, Johansson landed the right square on Patterson's jaw and the champion went down on his back. There was a pained look on his face and he was obviously hurt.

Patterson arose at nine on rubbery legs. Hands down he turned to his right, away from Johansson.

Johansson sprang after his helpless quarry and smashed him to the canvas with another right for nine. Patterson, now bleeding and completely dazed, looked finished.

Gettysburg Little League

The Glenn L. Bream "Yankees" moved to within a half game of first place and the Elks came to within one game of third place as both picked up one-sided victories in the Gettysburg Little League Friday evening on the Recreation Field. The Bream team walloped the Gettysburg National Bank 15-4 while the Elks handed the Rotary a 9-2 setback.

The garagemen got off to a quick 8-0 lead over the Bank and from that point on coasted to an easy win. The contest was highlighted by a pair of home runs off the bats of Tommy McDermitt and catcher Jim Redding.

Mike Herring was the game's top hitter with three safeties for four trips to the plate, including a pair of doubles. Bob Harman paced the Bank with a pair of singles. Mike Herring and Bob Harman were also called upon to go the distance on the mound for their respective teams. Herring receives his third win against the Elks while Harman is charged with his third loss without a win.

A six-run uprising in the second inning was enough for the Elks to take a decision from the Rotary. Three walks and four singles with the aid of an infield miscue accounted for the six runs.

The Elks then went on to tally once in the third and twice in the fifth. The Rotary scored their two runs in the top of the fifth on a lead off double by Dan Sanders and singles by Gerry Wisotzky, "Bo" Davies, and Johnny Flynn.

Craig Smith hurled the complete game to add his second win while Bruce Garret, who needed help from Dan Sanders in the second, is charged with his third loss. Dick Finkboner and Craig Smith again paced the winners' attack with a pair of hits. The Rotary collected four scattered safeties.

HERSHEY — Pairings and starting times for the 43rd annual Pennsylvania Open were announced today by Richard H. Semple Jr., president of the Pennsylvania Golf Association.

The big statewide pro and amateur links classic will be played Monday, on the courses of the Hershey Country Club and Hershey Park Golf Club.

The pros will be firing for cash prizes totaling $2,500, with $750 as the top winner's share. Amateurs with the three lowest scores will be awarded trophies.

A field of 147 of the Keystone State's finest linksmen have filed entries.

Dick Sleichter, Gettysburg Country Club pro and defending tournament champion, and Dr. G. Donald Wickerham, amateur from the Gettysburg club, will open their play Monday morning on the Hershey Park Golf Club course. Sleichter is due to tee off at 10:03 with Chuck Scally, Scally's D. R., and William Skomsky, Berwick. Wickerham opens at 9:42 with Harold Heinlein, Bon-Air, and Ed Cypher, Bedford.

LOUISE SUGGS LEADSTOURNEY

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Louise Suggs made up her mind that in order to win her third Women's National Open Golf title she would have to follow an old formula—relax and take it easy.

She leads by two strokes in today's grueling 36-hole final at the Churchill Valley Country Club.

Unlike most professionals and eager amateurs, the sweet swinger from St. Louis, Mo., passed up a pre-tournament tour of the course to concentrate on chipping, putting and driving.

"I played only three holes," said Miss Suggs. "Pre-tournament activity tires me out and I've found I've got to concentrate my energy to play a good game."

Scores soared Friday, including the round by Miss Suggs who shot a 4-over par 74 after a 1-over par on Thursday.

She leads by two strokes over Wright of San Diego, Calif.; former champion Patty Berg of West Chicago, Ill.; and Marlene Bauer Hage, the host club pro.

ORIOLES BEAT DETROIT TWICE TO REGAIN 2ND

By ED WILKS

The Baltimore Orioles climbed back into second place in the American League Friday night with a 12-7 and 4-1 sweep of a two-night double-header at Detroit. That left 'em just one game behind Cleveland's first place Indians, who belted Boston 11-5. It also left the Tigers four games behind in fifth.

New York's defending champion Yankees, crumpling along on their avenging adventure, whipped Chicago 8-4 and gained a third place tie with the White Sox, two games shy of first. The champs haven't been this high since April 24.

Washington's homer-happy Senators belted four, with Harmon Killebrew getting his 25th, in an 8-4 victory at Kansas City that sprung the Nats out of the cellar and dumped the A's into last place.

Drives In Five

Bob Nieman had four hits, one a homer, and drove in five runs in the first game for the Orioles, who cashed four Tiger errors for seven unearned runs that beat Ray Narleski (4-8). Billy O'Dell (4-6) was the winner, although chased in a seven-run ninth. Al Kaline, Gus Zernial and Charlie Maxwell homered for the Tigers, who have lost seven of their last 10. Zernial's shot was his 10th pinch-hit homer, tying Pittsburgh's Smokey Burgess for the major league career record.

7th In Ten Games

Singles by Gus Triandos and Billy Gardner, Walt Dropo's double and a force out scored two runs in the nightcap second for the Birds as they picked up their seventh victory in the last 10 games. Jerry Walker (5-3) was the winner with Billy Loes' two shutout innings of relief. Frank Lary (8-4) lost it.

The Yankees, winning 21 of their last 30 and fourth in a row from the White Sox, smacked Billy Pierce (8-8) for home runs by Hector Lopez and Gil McDougald while building a 6-2 lead. Art Ditmar (6-5) won it with relief help from first Ralph Terry and then Ryne Duren, who fanned eight in the last three innings while extending his shutout string to 25 frames.

His Nellie Fox

Duren, hit by a pitch in the ninth, got into a finger-pointing hassle with Chicago reliever Rodolfo Arias and then hit Nellie Fox in the ninth while striking out the side. But there was no real flare up.

It was different at Cleveland.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain was the bane of the Eastern League Friday night, but it didn't dampen the sizzling bat of Allenjown's Matt Sczesny.

Matt's two-run homer provided what proved to be the winning margin as the second-place Sox defeated the Reading Indians 7-3 in a game delayed by rain.

Bad weather forced league leading Williamsport and Albany off the field after three innings of play. The Springfield-Binghamton second game was washed out after the Giants won the opener 8-2. Lancaster won 6-3 over York in a contest shortened to seven innings by the weather.

Allentown pounded out 13 hits in opening a three-game stand at Reading. Sczesny, who went 4-5, got his roundtripper in the first after a single by Sczesny, an error, and singles by Bob Tillman, and Andy Madalone. Sczesny's double and Tillman's single brought in run No. 5 in the fourth. Then, Sczesny singled and Dan Lynk singled him home for the clinching tally.

Huls Four-hitter
Vic Davis hurled a four-hitter for Springfield and his mates backed him with 12 hits. Bob Farley and Tom Haller each had perfect nights at the plate, Farley collecting a double and two singles and Haller four singles.

Joe Arenivar homered for one of Binghamton's runs and scored again after tripling in the third. John Hansce of Lancaster picked up his seventh win without a defeat, giving up seven hits as his cohorts pounded out 12. Denny Loudenback and Gerry Palma both were three-for-five at the plate.

The Injuns' Vic Power was hit by Billy Monbouquette following Woody Held's two-run homer in the third inning and was wrestled to a stop on his trudge to the mound in Boston catcher Pete Daley. Power was ejected before any swings were recorded.

Dick Brown also hit a two-run homer for Cleveland as Cal McLish (8-3) won his third in a row despite a grand slam by Jackie Jensen and a solo homer by Dick Gernert. Jerry Casale (6-5) who had won five in a row, left with the loss in a five-run Cleveland first.

Faye Throneberry (5), rookie Bob Allison (20) and Bob Lemon (18) also homered for the Senators, who skipped into sixth place. Camilo Pascual (6-7) won it with relief help after blanking the A's for six. Ned Garver (6-6) was the loser.

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—During the first five days of the 73rd Wimbledon Tennis Championships, the calibre of play has been fairly good and the play acting has been simply great.

In moments of delight or despair, players have treated the 110,000 people who paid to see tennis' open air theater at its best—or worst. There have been soliloquies, tragic gestures, genuflections, thrown rackets and fake falls. Most of the performances have come from the losers.

WOMEN CHARGE NET IN TENNIS FORM CHANGES

By STERLING SLAPPEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—The revolution in women's tennis is nearly complete.

All the top class women, with just one or two exceptions, now serve and rush the net just like the men.

Althea Gibson was one of the first women net rushers and as the 73rd Wimbledon championships went into the fifth day it was apparent that her man-copying style has supplanted the lady-like technique of Maureen Connolly.

Connolly Retired
Miss Connolly, retired and a mother back in California, was the last of the great baseline hitters. Miss Gibson is in retirement and attending Wimbledon only as a special writer for a London newspaper.

While Miss Gibson, winner of the last two Wimbledon, sits in the stands and watches, the present day crop plays the male game more and more.

Christine Truman of London, the No. 1 seed, is a 6 footer with the reach to cover the net almost perfectly. Little Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., bounces up and down just short of the net.

All Go To Net
Beverly Baker Flett of Long Beach, Calif., is a hitter with a huge net the right or left hand and she is going to the net more and more.

Sally Moore of Bakersfield, Calif., is a big girl with a huge net and perfect for the net. Maria Bueno of Brazil is about the best volleyer at Wimbledon.

Both Sides Have Vital Stake In Settling Berlin Tangles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Time, like an old lady with a broom, has swept the Berlin crisis under the rug. But it's still there and pretty soon it will have to be faced again.

Strangely, although everybody knows how the crisis started, nobody seems to know why even though it's been examined and talked about for almost seven months.

It was last Nov. 27 that Premier Nikita Khrushchev warned the Western Allies to get their troops out of West Berlin although they've had them there since World War II days.

Khrushchev's Western thinking has been occupied with wondering whether Khrushchev was determined to force a showdown with the West or whether he could be negotiated out of it.

But the why of what he did remains a mystery. So does his yearning for a summit conference, which began about the same time.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who told the nation Tuesday night about his troubles with the Soviets, negotiated six weeks with them at Geneva to reach some understanding about Berlin.

West Takes Breather

Then the West and the Soviet Union decided to take a breather. They recessed until July 13 when they'll meet again in Geneva.

At the rate they've been going, the summer may be over before they reach an agreement or break off altogether.

So the crisis, out of sight at least until mid-July, must be faced again.

The Soviets, who have striven hard to keep their satellite world tight and intact, must consider the Western troops in West Berlin, and even the city itself with its inhabitants linked to the West, as a cancerous condition.

Berlin Is Island

The city, 110 miles inside Communist East Germany, is an island of two million free people right in the heart of the Communist world. And their interests and allegiances are turned westward.

Khrushchev could have had several reasons for precipitating this crisis with his Nov. 27 warning:

1. He may have felt that the Soviet Union—for whom the West Berlin situation has long been a sore spot—is now sufficiently powerful to force a showdown with the West, in the hope the latter would let the city go.

2. He may have felt this was as good a time as any to test or try to shake the solidarity of the United States and West European alliance. Would some of the West Europeans, or even the United States, be willing to face the war over Berlin?

That's a question which must have been in the Soviet mind a long time. Khrushchev may have decided it was time to look for an answer. One thing is certain:

If the West backs out on Berlin, reaching an agreement which would leave the city and its people open to Communist absorption, the whole Western alliance is weakened and may be ruined.

Wonderful Red Bargain

That would be a wonderful bargain for Khrushchev at very little expense. The only expense would be the time and the wind he used up in making the threat.

These are exactly what they appear to be: Guesses, even though they look like obvious ones. But no one can pretend he has the positive answers. And because the West doesn't have the answer it is to that degree involved in a guessing game.

That alone puts it at a disadvantage in trying to negotiate a settlement with Khrushchev. In the end the only way open to the West to overcome this disadvantage may be to end negotiations and tell Khrushchev:

"You made the threat, now make good."

If the West reaches that point the crisis will be here in earnest.

BRAVES MISS REDHEAD AT SECOND BASE

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — There's a chink in the Milwaukee Braves' armor and it's providing mighty costly in the National League pennant fight.

The Braves' big problem is at second base. Trying to fill the shoes of the ailing Red Schoendienst has turned out to be a monumental task.

With Schoendienst recuperating from tuberculosis, no less than six players have been tested at second. All have been found wanting by Manager Fred Haney.

Mantilla On Spot

From the lot, Felix Mantilla, a 145 hitter, has been adjudged the best. And the slender Puerto Rican is finding it rough.

Mantilla, who came up to the Braves in 1956, was responsible for two unearned runs Thursday as the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Braves 3-2. An error by usually reliable Hank Aaron led to the winning run.

Mantilla was guilty of sloppy fielding on two straight ground balls in the sixth inning and the Cards tied the score at 2-2. With one out and a runner on first, he fired wide to shortstop Johnny Logan and only a force out was made on a double play grounder.

Haney Disturbed

Then Mantilla couldn't find the handle on another grounder. That set the stage for a pinch single and a pinch double good for two runs.

Haney is disturbed by the second base problem, but there's little he can do about it.

"Why take out Mantilla when there's no one else?" he asked. "The others aren't any better at bat or in the field. I have to go with him. And I'm certainly not going to take him out because of an error. After all, Aaron made an error and I can't bench him."

Of the others tried at second base this season, three are still with the club. They are Johnny O'Brien (.211), Casey Wise (.173) and Mel Roach (.071). Two other spring aspirants — Chuck Cottier and Joe Morgan — have been shipped to Louisville in the American Assn.

Couple Is Married In Hospital Room

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — It seemed that every time Viola Clark and Rodney Hoeltzel planned to get married something interfered.

Twice they postponed the wedding because of illness in their immediate families.

This week it happened again. Miss Clark went to the hospital with appendicitis and had an operation on what would have been her wedding day.

Enough of postponements, the young couple decided. They were married Wednesday in her hospital room.

STAMP PANELS ARE PROVING VERY POPULAR

The new panels prepared by the Post Office Department showing the "Birth of a Stamp" are proving so popular that the Department's Philatelic Exhibition Room is hard pressed to keep its minimum needs of 12 on display, according to Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

They have been widely acclaimed internationally, and have been shown in Canada, Germany, Belgium and Austria thus far. Requests have been received for further showings in the Philippines, Spain, Poland, Italy and Germany.

In addition, new panels devoted to a particular stamp have been requested for showing in conjunction with first-day sales at the city of issuance. This has required a change of policy, since the initial intent was to set them up in the Philatelic Exhibition Room in Washington, D. C.

Over 100 Panels

There are, to date over one hundred of these panels, each measuring 36 by 48 inches, arranged vertically, to fit standard-size exhibit frames. As examples, there are three panels for each of the "Champion of Liberty" issues: Magsaysay, Bolivar, Kosuth and San Martin.

There are 14 Lincoln panels—two for the regular 4-cent coils and booklet panels; three for the 4-cent Lincoln-Douglas Debates; three for the 1-cent Beardless Lincoln; three for the 3-cent Lincoln Sesquicentennial; and three for the 4-cent Lincoln.

In the regular issues there are two panels for the 8-cent "In God We Trust" stamp (regular and Giori); two for the 25-cent Paul Revere; three for the 15-cent John Jay; and three for the 4-cent Hermitage (including the coil).

Airmail panels include three for the 7-cent, issued July 31, 1958 (including coils and booklet panels) and one devoted to the 5-cent airmail postal card stamp.

The complete listing of panels available to national and regional exhibitions, is as follows:

3 Magsaysay, 1 Horticulture, 1 8c Statue of Liberty (Giori), 1 8c Statue of Liberty (1954), 2 Brussels Exhibition, 2 Paul Revere, 2 James Monroe, 3 Minnesota Statehood, 3 International Geographical Year, 3 Gunston Hall, 3 Mackinac Bridge, 3 4c and 8c Simon Bolivar, 2 7c Jet Air Mail (regular), 1 7c Jet Air Mail coils, 1 4c Lincoln booklet panels, 1 5c Air Mail stamp, 3 Atlantic Cable, 3 Lincoln-Douglas Debates, 3 4c and 8c Lajos Kossuth, 3 Journalism, 3 Overland Mail, 2 Noah Webster, 3 Forest Conservation, 3 Fort Duquesne, 3 John Jay, 3 Alaska Statehood, 3 1c Lincoln Sesquicentennial, 3 Oregon Statehood, 3 4c and 8c Jose de San Martin, 3 3c Lincoln Sesquicentennial, 2 4c Hermitage, 3 NATO, 3 Arctic Explorations, 2 8c World Peace Through World Trade, 1 4c Hermitage coil, 3 12c Benjamin Harrison 3 4c Lincoln, 3 Silver Centennial, 5 49-Star Flag.

Make Early Requests

Groups interested in securing a set of the above panels for their exhibitions may address their request to the Director, Division of Philately, Post Office Department, Washington 25, D. C. Reservations should be made at least two months in advance since, as noted, the demand is great. Alternate panels should be indicated, as the preferred set may be committed.

In the event frames are not available for 36 x 32 standard album pages devoted to progressive and color trial die proofs, with imperforate blocks of four of various issues.

Hubby Charged Her For Odd Job Duties

CHICAGO (AP) — Mildred Baughman, 44, complained in Superior Court that her husband, Max, 45, an $18,000-a-year bank vice president, is willing to do odd jobs around the house only if she pays him union scale rates.

And, said Mrs. Baughman Thursday in her petition for a divorce, she has to pay out of her personal funds for painting, fixing the screens, waxing floors and other household chores.

Mrs. Baughman charged cruelty. She asked that Baughman be ordered out of their suburban Kenilworth home. She said she owns it.

Italian Champion Needs More Fights

CHICAGO (AP) — Italian lightweight champion Mario Vecchia wants another U.S. fight as soon as he can get it.

"I need another fight in this country," he said through an interpreter after a unanimous 10-round loss to Bobby Scanlon of San Francisco Wednesday night.

"I wasn't acclimated. I need to learn infighting like the Americans do it."

Scanlon's superior infighting piled up points in the televised bout at Chicago Stadium.

The Italian outwitted Scanlon 136 pounds to 135.

Scanlon's victory gave him a 33-3-1 record. Vecchia is 43-4-6.

JURY CONVICTS PHILA. SLAYER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Charles Coleman, 27, has been convicted of first degree murder with a recommendation of life imprisonment for the robbery-slashing of Gaetano Sabelli, a food importer, two years ago.

The jury deliberated only an hour before returning the verdict Thursday. Formal sentencing was deferred pending a motion for a new trial. Under Pennsylvania law a jury returning a first degree murder verdict must fix the penalty at death or life imprisonment.

Coleman was the third man convicted of killing the 60-year-old South Philadelphia merchant.

Frank McCoy, 32, was sentenced to death for doing the actual shooting and James Allen was given a life sentence.

Coleman was accused of driving the getaway car. He said he didn't know the other men planned a robbery when he drove them to Sabelli's store.

STATUARY TO GET COVERS

PARAMUS, N. J. (AP) — The Continental Restaurant has agreed to cover up.

The Rosary Society of the St. John's Roman Catholic Church of Bergenfield is holding a communion breakfast there Sunday.

But what about the statue of Venus in the restaurant, the one ungarnished by the waist up?

The restaurant said Venus would be draped either with a bra or a table cloth.

A smaller statue—a fountain of a naked boy—will be placed elsewhere during the breakfast.

NEWSPAPER CLOSING

MAHANOY CITY, Pa. (AP) — Saula a Lithuanian language newspaper published here twice weekly since July 27, 1888 appeared Friday for the last time.

Publisher Victor L. Boczkowski announced the closing of the paper Thursday. He said high costs and the end of Lithuanian immigration when the country became an Iron Curtain nation made it impossible to continue publication.

HIGHWAY BILL FACES BALKY HOUSE ACTION

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate rejected Friday two proposals for providing more highway building funds as it passed a bill to continue corporate and excise tax rates at wartime levels for another year.

But it wrote other amendments into the three billion dollar tax measure, making further congressional action necessary before the July 1 deadline. The Senate session lasted 15½ hours, into the early morning.

Unless the bill is signed into law by Tuesday midnight, tax rates drop on corporate income taxes and on excises on automobiles, auto parts and accessories, cigarettes, liquor, wine and beer. The House bill extending them for a year had no other provisions.

Committees Meet

Committees from the House and Senate hoped to meet today to agree on a final draft of the measure so the Senate and House can pass it early next week.

In votes taken after midnight, the Senate rejected both Eisenhower's proposal for a gasoline tax increase, and an alternative Democratic plan to prevent an eventual heavy cutback in the big interstate highway program.

The result was to throw in question whether any action would be taken to keep the program on schedule for the years ahead.

Conference Action

Both the rejected amendments would have provided more money for the special highway trust fund from which federal grants are made.

Four other amendments to the tax extender were adopted, all of them strongly opposed by the administration.

It was expected at least some of them would be thrown out in conference; some House leaders had indicated they would give a cold reception to any Senate changes.

Senate Adoptions

The four were:

1. Sponsored by Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.), to repeal the 10 per cent passenger travel tax, effective Aug. 1, 1959. This would slice about 235 million dollars a year from tax income.

2. Sponsored by Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.), to repeal the 10 per cent communications tax on such items as telephone service, effective July 1, 1960. It would cut revenues 735 million dollars a year.

Dividend Measure

3. Sponsored by Sen. Eugene McCarthy (D-Minn.), to repeal most of the tax credit for stockholders on dividend income, effective Jan. 1, 1960. It would bring in about 335 million annually.

4. Sponsored by Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.), to increase federal grants to the states for old age assistance and other relief programs by 142 millions annually, effective in October 1959. Adopted 42-36.

The effect of these combined would be to cut the government's income in the new fiscal year starting next Wednesday.

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — The ninth anniversary of the start of the Korean War was marked Thursday by:

1. A repeat of the Communist charge that John Foster Dulles touched off the war.

2. An American denial of this, and a statement that the Reds started the conflict with Soviet backing.

3. Anti-American rallies in Communist China, North Korea and Tokyo.

4. Rallies in South Korea featuring banners inscribed "Fight the Communists to achieve unification" and "Remember the day of disgrace."

LONDON (AP) — New York gem dealer Harry Winston has paid $308,000 for a diamond tiara often worn by British royalty.

It was a second record for the auction of the late Duke of Westminster's estate, the highest price for a piece of jewelry.

Wednesday a London art dealer paid the record auction price for a painting, $770,000, for Rubens' altarpiece "The Adoration of the Magi." The dealer said he bought it for a private British collector whose identity he would not disclose.

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Mrs. Nikita Khrushchev is going to make her first visit to the West this summer, Danish Foreign Ministry sources said Thursday.

The sources said the Soviet Prime Minister's wife is included in the party for her husband's Scandinavian tour in August.

Like all wives of leading Soviet officials, Mrs. Khrushchev stays out of the limelight and is virtually unknown to Westerners in Moscow.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Albert Oppenheimer left his wife, Hilda, a $15,000 life insurance policy when he died in 1924.

Mrs. Oppenheimer died in October at 83 and her estate's inventory, filed in Superior Court Wednesday, was valued at $441,246. All of it was from stock investments with the $15,000 her husband left.

HENNING NOT SURE POULTRY SLUMP IS OVER

By DICK WEEGHMAN
HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's agriculture secretary today greeted news of rising egg prices in Pennsylvania and the nation with a note of caution.

Noting that the poultry industry this year has experienced its most serious slump in 40 years, Dr. William L. Henning remarked, "I don't think it's over yet."

In spite of a report by John L. Rainey, director of the Bureau of Markets, that wholesale egg prices have risen 10 cents in the last two weeks in Pennsylvania, Henning said he would adopt a wait and see attitude on the trend.

No 2 Industry

Henning, calling poultry "Pennsylvania's No. 2 agricultural industry," told The Associated Press the Commonwealth did not escape the critical depression that has gripped the nation's poultry industry for the past four months.

"It affected Pennsylvania just as much as any other part of the union," Henning said in an interview. "It's been tough on our farmers." The secretary noted that poultry accounts for 120 million dollars of business yearly in the state for a position second only to the dairy industry.

Henning said, however, he believed the state's certified egg program has helped cushion the effects of the slump, which saw wholesale egg prices tumble some 20 cents a dozen in the state this year.

Under the certification program, bureau experts test egg graders for proficiency and survey plant methods to raise efficiency and quality. "You have to put across a good quality product," Henning said.

Rainey said the Pennsylvania poultry farmer himself is another cushioning factor.

"Our farmers generally are quite self-reliant. They may be using up their capital (during the slump), but they are not running marginal operations. And there are relatively few starters in the poultry business," he said.

Offer Explanations

Secretary Henning and Rainey volunteered several reasons for the slump and the recent trend upward.

Part of the trouble, Henning said, is that the poultry business "is unfortunately characterized by boom and bust cycles."

Another factor, said Rainey, is increased competition recently from other states, bringing eggs into Pennsylvania from other parts of the country.

Hot Weather Effect

Southern states that formerly were "deficit areas" for eggs have increased production to the extent that a surplus exists for export, he said. And Midwestern states that formerly sold eggs in these southern areas have placed their eggs on the general market.

In addition, there has recently been an overproduction of broilers with the result that farmers diverted broiler eggs to the regular egg market, Rainey noted.

Rainey attributed the 10 cent raise in wholesale prices during the past two weeks in Pennsylvania to slackened egg production caused by hot weather.

Driver Killed In 3-Vehicle Mishap

LEBANON, Pa. (AP) — Glenn J. Keller, 33, was killed instantly Wednesday in the collision of two cars and a tractor-trailer on Route 72 four miles south of here.

Anville state police said Keller's automobile collided with another car operated by Nancy Karinch, 18, Lebanon R. 5, and a tractor-trailer driven by Richard M. Boltz, 36, Frederickburg R.D.

George J. Johnson, 44, Lebanon, was taken to Good Samaritan Hospital with multiple cuts and bruises. They were riding in Keller's car.

The Karinch girl and a passenger, Janet Kenner, 17, Cornwall, had minor injuries and were released from the hospital. Boltz was unhurt.

HIGH PROFITS IN INSURANCE NEED CHECKING

HARRISBURG (AP) — Insurance Commissioner Francis R. Smith says Pennsylvania is becoming a haven for unscrupulous operators due to excessive profits in the unregulated field of creditor life and disability insurance.

Smith said Thursday the degree of profit for such policies runs as high as 2,800 per cent.

His comments came in urging passage of legislation which would empower his department to regulate companies which insure creditors on loans of less than five years. The policies pay off the debt if the creditor dies or is disabled.

Need Supervision

"The profit scale in this business as checked by investigators, based on income against losses, ran as high as 2,800 per cent," Smith said.

The commissioner also noted that the rate per $100 varied from 40 cents to $2.

"When rates vary to that degree something is wrong," he said. "It needs looking into and supervision by the department."

Smith said he referred to "captive" insurance companies that have working agreements with small loan companies.

"Remember this is a captive business," the commissioner said. "You don't get the loan unless you buy the insurance."

The District of Columbia is governed by three ministers appointed by the President.

Brucellosis On Way Out In Pennsylvania; Spread In Egg Prices Explained

By FRANK S. ZETTL

Adams County Farm Agent Pennsylvania achieved modified-certified status for brucellosis eradication when less than five per cent of the herds and less than one per cent of the cattle remained infected in March of 1958.

FRANK S. ZETTL

Regular semi-annual screening of all dairy herds by the milk ring test is paying off. Of 15,000 herds tested in the first four months of 1959, only 11 thousandths of one per cent of the cattle in these herds were found to be infected with the disease.

The complete eradication of the disease is possible if cattlemen are willing to fight the disease to the finish. Take these precautions to keep the disease out:

Three Steps

Be sure that your herd is tested regularly.

Be sure that every replacement is vaccinated against brucellosis.

Segregate all herd additions for 30 days and have them blood tested before exposing the herd to them.

Complete eradication of this expensive disease is within sight. Pennsylvania's dairy and beef cattle herds will never be really safe until the last reactor is slaughtered.

Cost Of Eggs

The spread between the price the consumer pays for eggs and the price the farmer-producer gets may amount to as much as 20 cents a dozen. The extra cost is due to at least two agencies, and sometimes three, between producer and consumer.

The Weeders Guide

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

The Associated Press

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. — It has always been my theory that the best substitute for a green thumb in gardening is a good hose. When in doubt, is my motto, water thoroughly and let's see what happens. You'd be surprised how often the theory works.

Occasionally, however, the most tender, loving care lavished on a plant or a planting still results in failure. Sometimes a tree — particularly a poplar — will simply succumb to old age. A moisture-loving tree set in hard, dry upland soil can't possibly be fed enough water artificially to survive into maturity; a plant of any kind that thrives in well-drained soil will literally drown if set in heavy, wet, clay soil.

Expensive Specimens

A gardening friend of mine set in two rather expensive specimen trees, each of which, after doing extremely well for three years, died. He probed with a crow bar and found there was a rock ledge a short distance below the hole he carefully dug to receive them. Another gardener had bad luck with an evergreen hedge until he excavated the soil further and found he was planting in an area where the house builders had neatly buried masonry debris — strongly alkaline chunks of plaster and limestone which was over-sweetening the soil which should have been on the acid side to support healthy evergreens.

Those of us who live in areas without sewer systems would do well to know exactly where our septic fields run — and avoid planting the area with anything heavier than a grass covering. This is a sort of insurance against sewage trouble.

For those who have drains running through their property to carry off water caught in footing tiles, the best way to beat repair bills is to blueprint the course of the drains — and keep major plantings away from them.

One neighbor returned from a

This last could very well be the most important part of a dealer's function, since his knowledge of real estate law sometimes can save you a lot of trouble before the transaction is completed.

There are three ways you can sell your house with an existing mortgage on it: (1) Have the buyer get a new mortgage to replace the old one; (2) have the buyer purchase the house "subject to" the mortgage; or (3) have the buyer purchase the house and "assume" the mortgage.

One Method Recommended

Under today's conditions, the savings and mortgage experts of the American Bankers Assn. recommend the first method. Then there are no contingent liabilities hanging over the sale. If a buyer purchased a house "subject to" a mortgage, what he would really be seeking would be to have a mortgage executed in his name at the same interest you were paying. If your mortgage is at a rate lower than the present market rate, it is unlikely that any lender would enter into such a deal.

In the third case, where the buyer would "assume" a mortgage, you might be dealing with a relative or close friend who had only a small amount of cash. He would give you a note and sales contract for the difference between the mortgage and the sales price agreed upon. In this event, the buyer would not sign any notes at the bank. The title to the property would remain in your name until the first mortgage held by the bank was paid off. Then a first mortgage would be executed for the amount of the sales contract, which the buyer would repay to you on agreed terms. In such an arrangement, the seller is accepting a contingent liability, because he is still responsible for the mortgage. If the bank were forced to foreclose on the property and sold it for less than the unpaid amount of the mortgage, the seller would be responsible for a deficit judgment.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG

QUESTION: I have taken off the old varnish from a bureau and now intend to stain it a mahogany color to match some other furniture. I would like to use regular oil stain. What is the best way to lighten the stain, since the furniture to be matched is a very light mahogany?

ANSWER: First of all, be sure you get a light mahogany stain. Secondly, thin it with turpentine. This by itself will lighten the color. Third, after applying the stain, wipe it off immediately. By taking these three steps, you will find that you have left a very, very light mahogany color on the wood. If it is a little too light, apply another coat again wiping it off at once. Continue this procedure until the stain is the proper shade. This method takes a little longer, but insures you against making the first coat too dark.

QUESTION: My brother and I have finished an extra room — all except the hanging of the door. We intend to put up a regular panel door. Can you tell us something about the location of the hinges? How many inches from the bottom should the lower one be? And how many inches from the top should the upper one be?

ANSWER: Carpenters usually do it this way: the door is placed in the frame, wedged in just the way it will be when hung. The bottom edge of the lower butt hinge is marked in line with the top edge of the lower rail of the door. The top edge of the upper butt hinge is marked in line with the lower edge of the top rail. But this method is not mandatory. Some persons prefer to place the hinges an inch or two closer together. Others use three hinges, one in the center, especially when hanging a heavy door.

QUESTION: I expect to put down a layer of concrete in our backyard some time this summer. There is a large tree in the center of the yard. How close to the base of the tree can the concrete be placed?

ANSWER: This is a tough one to answer, because a lot depends on how old the tree is, what kind trip to find — in dry weather — a foot of water in her basement. Water-seeking roots of several trees had forced their way into her underground drains and there made knots of roots which dammed the pipes, thus forcing underground water into the basement. They were cut out by a special piece of reaming equipment — but unless she has an expensive digging job to replace the drainage pipes with those made of root-proof materials, she must have the surgery repeated every couple of years.

Still another enemy of the garden is gas — the heating and cooking kind. A couple of years ago a neighbor fretted that an increasingly large area of an especially fine lawn was dying. The initial diagnosis indicated a fungus. It was treated — but the area spread. Then, because of a slight odor, a neighboring septic field was suspected. Finally, however, the real cause of the trouble was discovered: the gas line more than two feet down in the soil, had developed several leaks and was literally gassing the grass to death.

CATCHES MOST FISH BUT MATE GETSSUMMONS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)

— Mrs. Audrey Cohen among the women anglers caught the most fish in the greater Atlantic City Tuna Tournament which ended Friday. Her husband caught trouble.

Her husband, Ray Cohen of Brigantine, an international trustee of the Teamsters Union, was served with a summons by officials of the Senate Rackets Committee, as he waited for his wife at the Atlantic City State Marina.

The committee is concerned whether Cohen is in contempt of Congress. He is wanted by the rackets probes for questioning about the affairs of his Philadelphia Local 107.

Mrs. Cohen landed from the Audrey III. She led lady anglers in the three-day tournament with a catch of 24 tuna which weighed 250 pounds 2 ounces. And she was second to the leader, Alfred P. Orleans, of Elkins Park, Pa., who had 13 fish totaling 257 pounds 2 ounces.

Cohen told a reporter: "Well, my wife won some honors, and I won some, too."

Apparent High Milk Price Deceptive, Milk Lowest Cost Source Of Nutrients

By MRS. HELEN TUNISON

Associate Home Economist

Little Miss Muffet sat on a tuffet eating her curds and whey. The nursery rhyme, familiar to millions, makes prominent mention of cottage cheese as a nourishing food because "curds and whey" are the ingredients of cottage cheese. Here's a milk product that is fast gaining the top spot as a "slimming" food. It is rich in protein. It is rich in calcium. It is low in calories.

In concentrated form cottage cheese contains all the nutritive qualities of pure, fresh skim milk. You will be pleasantly surprised to discover the many ways cottage cheese will give economical flavor variety to your meals. The list of uses includes appetizers, quick breads, no-bake cheese cakes, baked cheese cakes, cookies, desserts, casseroles, main dishes, salads, salad dressings and sandwich fillings.

Of all the major dairy products, cottage cheese has enjoyed the greatest growth in sales over the past 10 years. Consumption per capita in 1957 was 5.2 lbs., an increase of 80 per cent from the 2.9 lbs. in the 1947-49 period.

Milk Really Cheap

Measured by the amount of work that the consumer has to do to earn the money to buy a quart of milk, the price is now the lowest in history. Back in 1890 it took 26 minutes of factory work to pay for a quart of milk selling at the average price of 6.8 cents per quart. In 1958, it only took 7 minutes to earn the price of a quart of milk figured at 25.2 cents. The farmer has not received more for a quart of milk but has had to increase his production and efficiency in order to stay in dairying. The consumer has benefited with a cheap but high quality product.

U.S. Public Health Service says: "Of all the factors of man's environment, none is more important to his welfare than food. Of all foods, none is more important than milk."

Dr. H. C. Serhman, noted chemist at Columbia University, says: "Increasing the proportion of milk in the diet should add to the length of life." Said Dr. Charles H. Mayo, late distinguished surgeon at Mayo Clinic: "Milk contains a large variety of nutritional constituents. Considering its cost per pound, milk offers more food for the money than any other food material available."

Milk and its products are rich in calcium. Man needs calcium in his diet to build bones and teeth and give tone to the heart muscles. Three glasses of milk contain 75 per cent of the calcium needed in daily diet, according to science.

Not only is milk a refreshing drink, but it is a quick source of energy through its supplies of protein, butyrate, carbohydrates and milk sugar.

Milk as a food benefits people of all ages from the cradle to the grave, from babyhood to old age. The cost of nutritional elements in a quart of milk would be over 40 cents if duplicated in other foods.

Texas was a republic from 1836 to 1845 when it was annexed by the United States.

There's a four-way saving for you in LOWE BROTHERS STANDARD BARN PAINT:

1. It covers solidly more area per gallon than "cheap" barn paint, so less paint is needed.

2. Protects your building longer by lasting longer.

3. Spreads easier, saves labor. Holds its color — eliminates frequent repainting.

4. Frequent repainting.

Nursing Is Glamor Career For Hospital Director

Mrs. B. Shulley Freeman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Shulley, lifetime residents of Orrtanna. She is a graduate of Gettysburg High School, took her nursing training at the Protestant Episcopal Hospital in Philadelphia and has been nursing for 25 years.

World-traveler and director of hospital nursing at the Washington Hospital Center, Mrs. B. Shulley Freeman has covered 50,000 miles so far this year, while carrying a heavy schedule at the hospital.

"I don't know of any other work that has the satisfaction of nursing and the opportunities for outside creative pursuits," said Mrs. Freeman from her desk at the Hospital Center where her office is full of mementos brought back from far-off places.

Mrs. Freeman uses her 24-day vacation leave in "small bits" in order to accompany her husband, Rube, on business trips which take him all over the world. As United States Interline Manager at Varig Airlines, Mr. Freeman makes frequent short trips to many parts of the globe. Having no children, Mrs. Freeman tries to schedule her vacation time to coincide with her husband's overseas trips. So far, she has visited 65 foreign countries. She has never been to Australia but expects to go there later this year.

Frequent Traveler

Flying to Scotland for three days or to Brazil for the weekend are not unusual to Mrs. Freeman. Her home and country place are filled with unusual articles, mostly archeological, which she has collected.

On her desk at the hospital, she keeps a Chi Chi mug brought in Machupichu, Peru. Chi Chi, Mrs. Freeman explains, is a drink something like Mexican tequila, except that it is made from fermented corn.

In Chichicastenango, Guatemala, Mrs. Freeman came upon two house idols used by the ancient Aztec Indians. Also on her desk are two ebony elephants brought back from Nigeria, as well as wood carvings from Switzerland and Norway.

Unlimited Opportunities

Once, when in charge of a field hospital and dispensary compound for an airline in Natal, Brazil, four badly burned Norwegian seamen drifted to shore in a rubber boat. They muttered Norwegian — Mrs. Freeman spoke only English and the small hospital staff were Portuguese. But hearing the sick has its own universal language and they all managed to communicate with each other.

Mrs. Freeman thinks that nursing has unlimited opportunities for both young and old alike. For instance, at the Washington Hospital Center, there are openings for nurses who have been out of hospital work for years while raising their families. Refresher courses are available and working hours are arranged to suit almost any kind of home situation. A nurse can work one day a week, if that is all the time she has available — or part-time, too.

Working conditions for nurses have improved greatly in the past ten years. Salaries and benefits have taken a big jump and promotions to head nurse and supervisor are encouraged from within the ranks. Many routine duties that used to be so time-consuming are now done for the nurse. For example, at the Hospital Center, the pneumatic tube system delivers records, catheters, dressings, etc. that formerly took a lot of walking time. The "intercom" makes it possible to speak to the patient without dozens of trips down the hall; oxygen and suction outlets in each room eliminate the need for rolling equipment through the corridors — and thermometers are AUTOMATICALLY shaken down at the Central Supply Room.

Mrs. Freeman is always glad to talk to anyone interested in resuming a nursing career.

POLICE MORALE TO BE BOOSTED

BUTLER, Pa. (AP) — Commissioner Frank G. McCartney of the state police says he has several steps in mind to increase the efficiency and morale of the force.

In a chat with newsmen here Thursday after completing a tour of state police barracks throughout the state, McCartney said he plans:

Revolving examinations for promotions of state policemen; setting up a program to give troopers more time off; streamlining the state police crime laboratory; asking the State Legislature to approve radar speed checks.

"The radar control," he said, "will not be aimed for purposes of prosecution but rather as a prevention measure."

McCartney, who was appointed commissioner by Gov. Lawrence shortly after the latter took office early this year, said he made the tour to tell troopers what he expects of them and what they can expect of him.

"Morale had not been up to par," he said, "but in the last four months it has been boosted."

MOSCOW (AP) — W. Averell Harriman says Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev told him the Soviet Union will not retreat from its demand that the Western Allies get out of Berlin.

The former governor of New York spoke with newsmen after he and Khrushchev lunched at the U.S. Embassy Thursday. U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson gave the farewell luncheon for Harriman, who left Moscow Friday after a six-week tour of the Soviet Union.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — An explosion Thursday night hurled two chemical plant workers to their deaths in a 13,000-gallon vat of acid. Firemen recovered the bodies of Albert Hurst and Mac Cox from the vat at the Foote Mineral Co. plant early Friday.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's veto of the wheat and tobacco bills illustrates the dilemma of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, leader of the Senate Democrats.

Johnson and his fellow Texan, Speaker Sam Rayburn, leader of the House Democrats, were able to muster enough votes, but only a majority, to pass the two bills which they knew beforehand Eisenhower didn't like.

But to re-pass them over a presidential veto requires a two-thirds vote of both houses, far harder to get than a simple majority and in this situation practically impossible.

Means No New Programs

Therefore, Eisenhower's veto Thursday night just about means no new wheat or tobacco programs this year.

In both houses the Democrats have a huge majority over the Republicans: 64 to 34 in the Senate; 283 to 153 in the House. But in neither house do the Democrats have two-thirds of the membership.

For that, they'd need 66 senators, or two more than they have, and 290 House members, or seven more than they have. So even if Democrats voted solidly, they seldom do, they'd still need Republican help to override a veto.

Has Strong Weapon

Thus Eisenhower, although his Republicans are badly outnumbered, has in his threat of a veto a mighty weapon to push the Democratic leadership into shaping legislation into a form acceptable to him.

This is an amazing situation, particularly in view of this fact: In the past three elections—even in 1956 when Eisenhower himself was winning a second term — the voters trusted the Democrats more than the Republicans to do what they wanted by giving them control of Congress each time.

Johnson's Stand

And Johnson, who describes himself as a "prudent progressive," has sought a middle ground and with this explanation:

That he has a responsibility for getting legislation through Congress and would rather see Congress achieve a record of legislation passed than create political issues or controversy by seeking legislation which may be vetoed.

The result: He has made a policy of shepherding through Congress fairly conservative legislation. This is legislation which has a good chance of getting a majority vote and still falling within Eisenhower's requirements.

Have Three Groups

This Congress, like others before it, and despite liberals' claims that the overwhelming Democratic victory last November was a mandate for liberal legislation, is made up of three groups:

The reactionaries in both parties a fairly small gathering, on one end; a handful of liberals in both parties on the other end, and in the middle, by overwhelming number, the conservatives.

Johnson constantly plays to that middle group. At any given time this middle-of-the-road approach will be too progressive for the reactionaries, too conservative for the liberals.

Johnson Draws Fire

By standing on the middle ground Johnson is beginning to draw the fire of liberal groups and even non-congressional leaders in his own party: Members of the advisory council of the Democratic National Committee.

They have generally taken this position: Johnson shouldn't let himself be pushed by the specter of a presidential veto, into blessing legislation Eisenhower may approve. Instead, they contend, he should fight for far more extensive legislation.

Look To 1960

Behind this reasoning is the argument that if the bolder legislation is killed by a Republican veto, the Democrats will have a better political issue in the 1960 elections.

But Johnson and Rayburn, because they are the Democratic leaders in Congress, can reply that they have built over the years a congressional record which must have pleased the voters since the Democrats have been given control of Congress in the past three elections despite Republican control of the administration.

M'ELROY HEARS MILITARY VIEW

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy has called a special conference of U.S. military chiefs to get their views on the operation of the new streamlined command system.

McElroy told newsmen Friday that he will meet Sunday morning, after the annual service secretaries conference, with about a score of military leaders from the Pentagon and the field.

The meeting will follow the seventh annual service secretaries conference, which opened at this Marine Corps base Thursday night to continue through Saturday.

About 160 civilian and military officials are attending. The chains of command were altered substantially early this year with operational control of the services over units in the special commands shifted from the service secretaries to the defense secretary and his Joint Chiefs of Staff.

McElroy said the meeting would take up any problems which may have shown up in the first six months of operation.

DEATHS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
GLENDAL, Calif. (AP)—J. L. McElhany, 79, head of the Seventh Day Adventists Church from 1936 to 1950, died Thursday. He had been general field secretary of the organization since 1950.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ray Johnson, about 74, chief of California Hot Springs Indians, died Thursday. He was in Washington with a group picketing government buildings in protest against alleged wrongs to Indians.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Dr. Thomas Judson Parsons, 89, former Indiana Baptist executive and editor, died Thursday. He was minister and executive secretary of Indiana Baptist conventions for 25 years before coming to Miami from Indianapolis 11 years ago.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mrs. Percy H. Clark, 78, mother-in-law of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, died in her home Wednesday night in suburban Villanova.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Archie Gottler, 63, composer, died of a heart ailment Wednesday. Among his songs was one with one of the longest titles on record, "Would You Rather Be A Colonel with an Eagle on your Shoulder or a Private with a Chicken on your Knee?"

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — James F. Hitchcock, 47, former All-American football player at Auburn and member of the Alabama Public Service Commission, died Wednesday following a heart attack.

MONTREAL (AP) — Ronald T. Riley, 50, president of Canadian Pratt and Whitney Co. Ltd., collapsed and died Wednesday, 24 hours before he was due to be presented to Queen Elizabeth.
